Anna Johnson

Laboratory Technician

Shakopee, Minnesota | May 2015

Midwest Industrial Coatings, Inc. would like to introduce you to the latest member of our team, Anna Johnson. Anna is joining us as a laboratory technician. She is a 2012 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, River Falls, with a degree in chemistry.

Anna is a native of Red Wing, Minnesota. Before joining MICI, Anna began her post-graduate career at Red Wing Shoe Company as a laboratory technician, performing chemical testing on leather and physical testing on shoe soles and other materials.

Professionally, Anna enjoys learning new skills and growing her expertise. She is known for her ability to take on new responsibilities and to know her job inside and out, all while working as efficiently as possible and maintaining a low level of stress.

Personally, Anna is loyal and devoted to her friends and family, and enjoys spending time with them whenever and wherever possible. When she isn't working you might find her hiking the bluffs of Red Wing, visiting one of the many new Minnesota microbreweries or engrossing herself in her passions of art and video gaming. Anna is also a lover of pickles and her cat Seymour - whom she adopted from a previous job, where he was the "store cat."

Anna, welcome to Midwest Industrial Coatings, Inc. We hope you are as excited to be joining us as we are to have you.
